St. John Ambulance Presents Award at Annual Banquet

The local branch of the St. John Ambulance Association held its annual banquet in the banquet room of the Grand Union Hotel on Saturday, May 21.

With over 50 people in attendance to partake of a turkey supper provided by the Coleman Collieries, Mr. John Curry, safety supervisor for the Collieries called upon the gathering to sing "O Canada" after which Miss Patricia Kilgannon said grace.

St. John Ambulance officers present were E. X. Hill, president; E. Hill, vice-president; J. Kilgannon, secretary; R. Greenhalgh, examiner; W. Hamner, J. Clarke, W. Irwin, P. DeCocco.

Mine officials present were Mr. E. Allen and Mr. John Curry.

Mr. Curry, after the supper had been enjoyed by all, called upon Mr. E. X. Hill for a few words. Mr. Hill expressed his gratitude on seeing the wonderful turnout, and if this class would continue it would be a definite asset to the community plus helping to make fine citizens.

Mr. Greenhalgh who was called upon next, stated that this class was the largest and one of the best junior groups that had ever been his pleasure to examine.

The practical work of the group was outstanding and he gave considerable credit to the leaders, especially Mr. P. DeCocco.

Mr. Curry then called upon R. Crippen, press representative, to say a few words.

Mr. Crippen, caught by surprise, stated that he thought that it was only his duty to record the activities of the others, not to make speeches, but as he was on the spot would try and give his impression of this wonderful turnout. He stated that it was gratifying to all to see such a large class of youth, so interested in trying to help others in the saving of lives, as so many people today were in need of this great effort. That it was the easiest thing in the world to take a life, but the greatest thing was the saving of a life, and he hoped that these youths would continue to strive towards this goal.

Mr. P. DeCocco thanked the instructors for the wonderful job they had done, especially with the boys themselves, and that they were good boys, they listened to instructors well. He hoped to have more boys next year and would strive towards that end. It was plain to see that the youths

Labor Progressive Party Holds Meeting

A rally of Labor-Progressive Party election workers was held here last night to map out campaign plans for the June 29th provincial elections. It was decided that L.P.P. leaders would be brought in from both Toronto and Vancouver to address public meetings and assist in the campaign. The meeting was addressed by Ben Swankey, Provincial Leader of the L. P. P. and the party's candidate for the riding of Pincher Creek-Crow's Nest.

Mr. Swankey charged that the real reason why a snap election was being called at this time was "growing public suspicion about shady financial deals 'engaged in by government members.' 'Where there's smoke there's fire' said Mr. Swankey and accused Premier Manning of 'trying to prevent the whole truth from coming out.' He claimed another reason for the snap election was "growing public dissatisfaction with the government over needless unemployment, increasing difficulties on the farms due to loss of markets and falling prices, and the fear of living in the shadow of an atomic war."

"The spectacle of some people filling their pockets at public expense while many of our citizens are in want is bad enough," said Mr. Swankey, "but the greatest crime of this government is that of deliberately handing over ownership of our rich natural resources to U.S. big business interests. Five giant U.S. corporations today control the bulk of our oil and natural gas resources, the total value of which is over ten billion dollars. This is equal to $10,000 for every man, woman and child in Alberta."

"Instead of using these resources to build up and industrialize Alberta to provide jobs for Alberta workers and a better future for Alberta families, the government is interested only in exporting them to the U.S. Our oil and gas, the profits from them, potential industries and jobs, all are being sent down the line. At the same time the provincial and federal governments are allowing our Canadian coal industry to be ruined."

"There is no need for economic depression in our rich country and province. We need the all-side development of Alberta's economy, including the industrialization of the Crow's Nest Pass."

"A market for as much coal as we can produce will be available if U.S. coal were kept out of Canada. We should have industries in Crows Nest Pass to process coal for its many valuable by-products. Right here we have the iron ore, coal, limestone and gas necessary for the establishment of a steel industry. We have the gas and oil for a petro-chemical industry and the timber for a pulp industry. Such industrialization of the Crow's Nest Pass would provide jobs for our unemployed and our young people, it would build up a market for our farmers and guarantee expanding business for our local businessmen."

"But to achieve these things we must have new policies in Edmonton and Ottawa. Policies which will put the needs of the people of Alberta ahead of the profits of U.S. trusts. The election of L.P.P. candidates to the provincial legislature will guarantee that such Canadian policies will be vigorously fought for."

Legion Band Festival At Lethbridge

Time is getting close for the Canadian Legion Band Festival to be held in Lethbridge on May 28. We hope that you have supported the Festival Queen contestant from Coleman Mary-Ann Bodisch who is sponsored by the local RCEME band under the command of Capt. E. A. Fontana, and directed by Fred Beddington.

This would be quite a feather in the hats of Coleman people if we could make Mary-Ann the festival queen. Folks, Coleman is not dead yet so let's show the rest of the country that we are still in there, and must be considered whenever Southern Alberta gets together.

The chair was then turned over to Mrs. Knutsen, district commander, who introduced the visiting presidents, who in turn spoke a few words.

Mrs. Lamont presented the provincial officers with a corsage of red, white and blue carnations. Mrs. Dexter, provincial president, spoke on the auxiliary's expansion in which to date there are 155 branches, with a total membership of 6,000 members.

Pass Unemployed Miners to Receive Assistance

With the return of a delegation of Crows Nest Pass business men and Union representatives who journeyed to Edmonton two weeks ago to interview the Provincial Cabinet over the recent layoff of miners from the Coleman Collieries. Information has been received by the Coleman local of the UMWA that definite assistance is forthcoming. The first point has been the re-establishing of the Miners rehabilitation fund up to the $100,000 mark. This fund can only be used to assist men who were laid off to move families and effects to other areas, upon the point of employment in another area, it can also be used to transport men to areas where they have obtained employment. The second point is the plan under way to provide employment in our forest areas, by building roads, etc. It is hoped to hire about 40 men on the project as the plan progresses. Another point that was approved was that all highway work in this area would use local labor only. On the bus question to transport miners to Fernie and Michael the Government has assured the Union that they will pay 80c towards the cost of operating the bus, the balance will be absorbed by the miners and the coal co. so it is expected.

Senior Mens Softball May Be Organized In Coleman

Considerable comment has been going around this last week in regard to the formation of a men's softball league here in Coleman.

In 1953 a start was made between the Elks Lodge and the Canadian Legion, but this was let down in 1954. During the short time that the two teams were operating they enjoyed considerable games and it became quite popular. We see that teams in Blaimore are considering organizing, so how about us here in Coleman? I'm sure that the Elks, Legion, Lions, Collieries officials and others could put forth teams, maybe they would require considerable amounts of equipment to limber up the sore muscles but that can be met in sufficient quantities from our local stores.

Oh, we just remembered, the Board of Trade, maybe they could find enough men of sporting interest to get a team together.

This type of sport could create considerable interest if it was kept to men who were not in organized ball at the present time. So how about thinking this over, and let this reporter know how you feel, so as a call can go out shortly for a meeting of all parties interested to form such a loop.

Mother, Daughter Banquet Held by Explorers Group

The United Church Explorers Group held a Mothers and daughters banquet on Saturday, May 14 in the clubrooms. Tables were gaily decorated with gay cards and dainty baskets made by the girls. Each mother received a small gift. A lovely supper was served followed by a musical program. Piano solos were played by Judy Coover, Sharlet Dunford and Weslyn Dunford. Marie Yakula sang a Ukrainian song followed by Shirley Campbell who sang a Dutch number. Elaine Townsend sang "Open Up Your Heart and Let the Sunshine In" with everyone joining in the chorus. In the last week over twenty letters were sent out by the Collieries at Fernie to Coleman Men who had applied previously for jobs, of this amount 14 men have applied and received jobs. It is expected that there will be a further call issued next week.

The members of the delegation who made the representation to the Alta-Govt. were: Mr. N. Ash, union secretary; Mr. F. Abousafy, Mayor of Coleman; Mr. H. Boulton and Mr. W. Holyk of the Board of Trade all of Coleman. Representatives from Blaimore were Mr. F. J. Lamey, manager of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, and Mr. T. J. Costigan of the Local Advisory Employment Board. A great deal of credit must be extended to this delegation, and also to Mr. W. Kovach, M.L.A., who have gone all out in their efforts to relieve the unemployment situation in this area. The delegates all have expressed their deep appreciation in the way the Hon. Norman A. Wilmore, minister of labor, Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, and the Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of land and forests, received their briefs, and in the definite way the ministers assured them that everything that could be done would be done.

Perennial grasses should be sown early for good seed

If a good seed crops is expected in the year following seeding, perennial grasses should be sown early. In agreement with previous trends, advantages of early seeding were again indicated in a preliminary trial conducted last year at the Beaverlodge Experimental Station.

In 1963, C. R. Elliott, agronomist in charge of forage crops, sowed creeping red fescue and bromes in rows. The grasses were sown at seven different dates in June and July and their yields in the following year compared. Yields from those sown in July were substantially less than from the June sowings.

June Higher
June 4, 10, 15 and 24 and July 8, 16 and 23 were the seeding dates.

Properly timed poultry production said important

REGINA.—Frank Payne, Saskatchewan Poultry Commissioner, has released figures indicating an optimistic future for poultry raisers.

"Available data indicates that both egg producers and poultry meat producers are more conservative this year than last in formulating their production programs," he said.

Figures compiled by the department since last October, has been consistently below that of a year ago. In the first quarter of the current year there were 12 per cent fewer chicks hatched than last year. There were 11 per cent fewer turkeys in incubators at the end of March this year than on a like date in 1964.

"Canadian storage stocks of poultry meats are at a fairly low level," said the commissioner, and American forecasts are for a slightly lower level of production for 1965. Taking these and other factors into consideration a condition of cautious optimism prevails in the industry.

"A poultry project produced by a properly timed program, good feeding and sound management practices will pay a reasonable return on investment this year," he said.

MAKE FISHING EASY

If you do not care for fishing there are other ways that this folding seat with back-rest may be enjoyed. It is easy to make too if you use actual-size guides when sawing out the shaped pieces from 1/2-square feet of 3/4-inch plywood. Tracing diagrams for the parts to make a minnow bucket, boat, bailing scoop and the fishing line drier shown in the sketch are all on pattern 421. This pattern will be mailed for 35c or it will be included in the sportsman's packet of patterns for gun rack, duck decoys, pipe rack and a plywood boat that is light enough to carry on top of your car, all for $1.50 postpaid. All these patterns are standard size.

Corner cupboards like or similar in design to the one shown in the sketch above were probably the most widely used built-ins to be found in Early American homes. The increasing popularity of these cupboards in modern homes stems likely from their beauty and utility. Here is a design that combines these two virtues. The outlines for the scallops and other irregular shapes are traced directly from the pattern to the wood. The pattern allows for variations in ceilings. Pattern 318 for making the cupboard and 261 for three sets of wall pockets are 35c each if ordered separately. Pattern 261 is included in the packet of five patterns for making Early American reproductions. Price of the packet is $1.50 postpaid.

GARDEN NOTES

Cultivating easier, quicker if long-handled tools used

Cultivation of the garden, even a large one, need not and should not be a back breaking chore. It is amazing how much easier and quicker the job is done with tools that have long handles. Of course, for getting in close to tiny flowers or vegetables, for weeding and a few other delicate jobs, it may be necessary to get down on knees or knee pads but with a little care a great deal of the ordinary cultivating and planting jobs can be handled with a minimum of stooping.

Keep planting

Too much emphasis cannot be laid on spinning out the planting. It is much better to plant a little every week for a month or so than to try and get everything in at once. There is no good reason why most vegetable and a lot of flowers cannot be planted for many weeks yet and this gradual planting will produce far more satisfactory results than sowing or setting out all at once.

The vegetable garden particularly, should be planted gradually with only a portion of the carrots, beets, beans, corn, etc., sown at one time.

In the flower line, experienced gardeners will sow such things as nasturtiums, asters, cosmos and other annuals in little plots here and there in the flower garden. When these come up they will leave only a few plants in the original position and transplant the surplus to other parts of the garden.

Handled carefully, these transplants will come along almost as quickly as those left untouched and thus a large flower garden can be planted at trivial cost.

Not too deep

Almost every one is inclined to plant far too deep. With tiny seed such as that of lettuce, carrots, cosmos, zinnias, poppies, and alyssum, which are not much larger than the head of a pin or single nail, it is not necessary to cover at all. We sow these in the finest soil and merely press in. Then, if possible, we keep the soil dampened until germination starts.

With larger seeds such as nasturtiums, peas, beans and corn, one should cover lightly, say a quarter to half inch. With bulbs or corns of gladioli, dahlias, or potatoes, one plants four to eight inches deep.

3 different Cheese-flavored Treats from One Basic Dough!

Clever one-oven tricks with FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST!

One dough—one oven—three kinds of flavor-thrilled baking! It's easy to be a whiz when you start with Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Rises so sure, so fast—results so light and appetizing! If you bake at home, be sure you have plenty of Fleischmann's on hand.

BASIC CHEESE DOUGH

Scald
1 1/2 cups milk
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons shortening

Remove from heat and cool to lukewarm. In the meantime, measure into a large bowl.

1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 teaspoon granulated sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with contents of 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast.

Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture.

Stir in
2 1/2 cups sifted bread flour and beat until smooth and elastic; stir in 1/2 cups lightly-packed shredded old cheese.

Work in
2 1/2 cups more (about) once-sifted bread flour. Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead dough lightly until smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set dough in warm place, free from drafts, and let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out dough on lightly-floured board and knead lightly until smooth. Divide into portions and finish as follows:

1. CHEESE LOAF

Shape half batch of dough into a loaf and fit into a greased loaf pan about 4 1/2 by 8 1/2 inches. Grease top, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°, about 40 minutes—cover loaf with brown paper during latter part of baking to avoid crust becoming too brown.

2. MARMALADE BRAID
Roll out a quarter of a batch of dough into an 8-inch square on a lightly-floured board; brown dough. Spread with 1/4 cup marmalade and sprinkle with 1/4 cup chopped nuts. Roll up jelly-roll fashion, seal edge and ends. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°, about 20 minutes.

3. CHEESE BREAD STICKS
Cut a quarter of a batch of dough into 12 equal-sized pieces and roll, one at a time, into thin strips about 7 inches long. Brush strips with water and roll lightly in cornmeal. Place, well apart, on greased cookie sheet. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°, about 10 minutes.

Funny and Otherwise

Hi: "Did you have fun at the party?"

Fi: "Yes, we played musical chairs the hard way."

Hi: "How's that?"

Fi: "Without chairs."

The moon whistle had blown when Murphy shouted, "Has anyone seen me yet?"

Pat: "Shure, Murphy, and ye've got it on."

Murphy: "That I have (gazing at the garment), and it's a good thing ye seen, or shure and I'd have gone home without it."

People are funny. They spend more money they don't have to buy things they don't need, to impress folks they don't like.

Two men, neither very bright, were helping to build a house. One kept picking up nails, looking at them, keeping some, and throwing others away.

"Why are you throwing away so many nails," asked his companion.

"Because they have the head on the wrong end."

"You fool, those are for the other side of the house!"

Two vacationists, meeting at the first tee of a hotel golf course, formed a two-some. On the ninth hole one of them said, "That's my wife over there playing with an old hag she dredged up somewhere."

The second man replied casually, "You know, I was about to say the same thing."

A young soldier lost his rifle. Brought before the colonel, he was told he'd have to pay for it.

"Suppose I lost a tank, sir?" asked the soldier. "Surely I wouldn't have to pay for that."

"Yes," replied the colonel. "Even if it took the rest of your army career to do it."

"Gosh," said the soldier. "Now I know why a captain goes down with his ship!"

A man, asking for work in a Philadelphia railroad yard, said that he was willing to do anything.

"Okay," said the foreman. "Take this snow, I can and out all the switch points and crossings up the line."

Two months later, the foreman received this telegram: Dear Sir: Arrived at Chicago. Please forward more oil.

The playing "away" problem

Many athletes have much difficulty playing their best when they do not play in their home arena or stadium. For example, read the other day that Montreal Canadiens are a very poor "away" team.

This is very interesting and is a subject that such psychologists as Coleman Griffith have spent much time studying. It appears that the ability to play equally well away and at home depends on your general make-up. Some people, due to their nervous and emotional temperament, find it more difficult to adapt themselves to new and different circumstances. This is very obvious socially. For example, some people when they go to a party get new friends through group acquaintance, are completely at ease—whereas others find it difficult to "be themselves" under these new circumstances. Some individuals can make new people and feel quite at home but others will be ill at ease and tense.

In the case of the athletes playing away from home they become conscious of the same sort of thing plus the fact that they have a feeling that they are not amongst friends and that the spectators will be against them.

The fundamental reaction that causes the inefficiency is tension because when you are not at ease in your surroundings you are usually tense—both nervously and as far as your muscles are concerned. Those who have trouble in this respect should do the following things:

1. Always try to get to the scene of action as early as possible before the game or competition so you can get used to the surroundings.
2. There should be a long warm-up before the game or competition in order to get adjusted to the new type of crowd noises and crowd reaction generally.
3. Every attempt should be made to develop a relaxation technique to loosen up the tension that will develop due to the difference in surroundings and environment. A team with the reputation of a "road or away team" is usually one that has a lot of athletes of this type who adapt themselves easily to different circumstances. The Detroit Red Wings are a good example of such a team.

Lady Byng trophy won by Sid Smith

MONTREAL.—Gentlemanly Sid Smith, Toronto Maple Leaf's high-scoring left winger, literally walked away with the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy for 1954-55. Slim Sid potted 114 points out of a perfect 150 to finish 42 points ahead of his closest competitor, Danny Lewicki of the New York Rangers. He won the trophy also in the 1951-52 season.

Detroit's Red Kelly, winner of the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy for the past two seasons, finished third in the balloting with 53 points.

Other players to receive points were Don Raleigh, Rangers and Jean Beliveau, Canadiens, 15; Edgar Laprade, Rangers, 12; Bill Mosienko, Chicago and Bill Quackenbush, Boston, 7; Earl Reibel, Detroit, 6; Harry Watson, Chicago and Ed Sanford, Boston, 5; Ron Stewart, Toronto and Ken Mosell, Canadiens, 3; George (Red) Sullivan, Chicago, 2; Alex Delvecchio, Detroit, Fleming MacKell, Boston, Bob Goldham, Detroit, Jackie Leclair, Canadiens and Don McMorrey, Boston, 1.

In capturing the trophy which is awarded annually to "the player adjudged to have exhibited the best type of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with a high standard of playing ability during the season," Smith also collects a cheque for $10,000 from the National Hockey League.

Make homes safe

Statistics show that homes which should be the safest places in the world, have a shocking accident record. Homemakers can learn a great deal from safety-conscious industries.

In a well-run industrial plant it is likely the top and bottom steps of a flight of stairs will be painted a bright yellow. This is not artistic flair on the part of management. Yellow paint, chosen for its high visibility, is part of the safety color code used in modern plants to warn of accident hazards.

Homemakers can take a tip from industry in putting color to work on danger spots around the house.

The cellar stairs in most homes would make an efficient plant manager turn pale. Even when everything else in the house is gleaming with fresh paint, the stairs to the cellar are often narrow, dark and traffic-worn, with a cluttered landing and, probably no hand rail.

A plant safety supervisor would first of all banish obstructions on the staircase and increase the strength of the lighting.

Then paint would be put to work in the interests of safety. Ceilings should be white and walls a very light color to reflect as much light as possible. White is the best reflector, but beige, yellow and aquamarine are good. Although light paint on the stair treads themselves may not be too serviceable, the top and bottom steps, where most accidents occur, should be painted the lightest color.

38,000 Classrooms needed in 10 years

To provide for the increased school population of Canada 10 years hence, 38,000 new classrooms will be required and an equal number of additional teachers.

At present costs, points out The Financial Post, this will involve a capital expenditure of $750 million for new buildings and an annual expenditure of $100 million in teachers' salaries.

There may be a difference of opinion as to how we will raise the money for those bills, says The Post, but at least on one point every sensible person must be agreed. Something drastic and very basic has to be done. This vital problem just won't evaporate nor will it be solved by inaction.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

ST. PAUL GAVE US INSIGHT ON ENDURING RICHES

St. Paul wrote a great deal that is deep in perception and thought. With meditation, much of practical wisdom can be gleaned from his writings to inspire us today.

Of particular import are his passages which mention money and possessions. In perhaps his most remarkable passage on this subject, he sets forth, in Ephesians, the fact and doctrine of the Christian's wealth.

"Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours, and ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's." (Eph. 1:3-12)

He was a great proponent of organized relief, and gathered funds from the better-to-do Christians in successful trades for the relief of their poorer brethren, especially in the church at Jerusalem, where the poverty of Christians seems to have been a pressing problem.

For true Christians can ignore the social problems of poverty and need, or minimize the ways and means of solving it. There is no blessedness about worldly poverty. Nevertheless, the Christian's wealth of which Paul wrote was real, even if it was not material.

And the free grace of God is the freest, richest thing of all. What Paul wrote stands as a supreme invitation and a supreme fact.

A good match for "a wolf" Is calling a woman a "vixen" similar to referring to a man as "a wolf." So queries a feminine subscriber. A vixen is a female fox. The vixen does all she can to attract male attention, then plays hard to get. She likes to have four or five males battling for her favor. Then she plays one against the other. I would say to refer to a woman as a vixen is to indicate she is a habitual and heartless flirt.

An explanation is in order Note a reference to engagement rings for men. Why not? It is by no means a new idea. A New Yorker informed me that 20 years ago she presented her then fiancé with an engagement ring. This ring had a diamond in the middle and a sapphire on each side. . . . Sapphire was the recipient's birth stone. Were you presented with a ring by the girl of your dreams when marriage was decided upon? If not, why not? Take this up with the lady in the case and demand an explanation.

Successful transplanting is real test

Successful transplanting is a real test of a gardener's ability. It is a tricky job at best and one that must be done strictly in accordance with Mother Nature's rules.

Professional gardeners say that transplanting is hard on the plant, even when it is done with extreme care. Many times a plant seems to perk up after transplanting, but this is because it has been moved from a location that was not suitable.

Guard tender roots.

Always be sure the soil is moist enough to cling to the roots when you transplant. If possible, lift the plant gently with your fingers. If a trowel is used, be very careful to thrust it into the ground far enough from the plant so that the tender little roots are not cut. Make a hole in the ground deep enough to thrust the plant into. Stand a little deeper than it did before. Place the plant carefully and pour some loose soil over the roots. Press this soil gently with your fingers so that all parts of the root system come in contact with the soil.

Any air space left around the roots will cause them to dry out and your plant will die.

At this point, it will give the young plant a better start if you pour a small amount of starter solution into the hole. This solution provides the food the plant needs at this critical time and helps it withstand the shock of being transplanted.

BABY'S BONE A daily dose of vitamin D will help to develop strong, normal bones and teeth if administered from birth to the age of sixteen years.

Move to Organize Pass Area Loggers

CALGARY (CP) — Negotiations for the first lumber workers' contract in the history of Alberta got under way Wednesday at Blaimore as part of a move by the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) to organize all lumber camps in the province.

The talks are taking place in the area where eviction notices were served to workers after they had joined the union, but were withdrawn April 25 following intervention by the provincial board of industrial relations. The houses in question were company owned.

Bill Gray, Vancouver, organizer and district vice-president of the IWA, said that contract talks were now going on between the union and local companies. These are Burmis Logging, Burmis Lumber, Blaimore Sawmills and Bodo Lumber. About 200 men are involved in the discussions.

The union claimed in talks with the board of industrial relations during April that 67 out of 74 men employed by the Burmis Logging Co. had been served notice to quit their houses for union activity. Later, G. H. Allen, Calgary, owner of the firm, said "our man down there acted a bit hastily."

Mr. Gray said he hoped to negotiate "a reasonable contract."

Forests Call For Public Vigilance

While thousands of trees will be planted for shelterbelts on prairie farms this year, other thousands of trees in the timber zones may be wiped out by forest fires, says a public message of the Canadian Forestry Association's Alberta Branch.

"Alberta's 933,000 square miles of productive timberlands measures more than three times the size of Scotland. Ninety percent of these tree-covered acres are owned by people of the province. Alberta already is the center of lively forest industries and extensive woods employment, but only the first stage of development has been reached."

"The woodland areas of the Eastern Slope of the Rockies are regarded as one of the most important and strategic forest regions in North America, as they are the birthplace of all the rivers that water the Western plains. These Eastern Slopes are exposed to fire hazards that can work deadly injury to farm fertility and the success of irrigation projects. The fire threat originates in the personal negligence of campers, sportsmen, woods-workers, and other users of the forest country. Such easily-preventable acts of carelessness as an abandoned campfire and lighted tobacco can create a blackened countryside destined to remain a lifeless waste for fifty years or longer."

"This year, as a test of public co-operation, every Alberta citizen is being urged to regard himself as a voluntary fire-ranger every time he enters forested country. For this job he needs no badge. His sense of fair-play should be enough."

Whose Responsibility?

Like a ghost from the hungry thirties, the question of unemployment relief is being discussed between the federal and provincial governments. Apparently the two jurisdictions are as far apart as they were twenty years ago on the point of which has the major responsibility to provide relief for those who have no income because of being out of work.

The federal government is taking the position that since it provides unemployment insurance it is the provinces which should take care of the unemployed who have used up their unemployment benefits. The logic of this position is hard to grasp. The federal government finally assumed the responsibility of providing unemployment insurance because it was obvious that economic conditions in the nation were determined mostly by national policies. In addition, it was obviously impracticable for the provinces to set up such a scheme because of the lack of uniformity of conditions.

So, although under the British North America Act the provinces had the constitutional responsibility for the unemployed, the arrangement was made, with the consent of all the provinces, for the federal government to undertake the setting up and administration of an unemployment insurance scheme. This course was taken in conformity to the logic of the circumstances. Surely the question of relief is no different.

The unfortunate feature of the argument between the federal and provincial governments about which should provide relief for people who are out of work and who have exhausted their insurance benefits and savings, is that the unemployed and their families are the sufferers in the dispute as they often were during the big depression. Many a man went hungry in the thirties while municipal, provincial and federal governments argued about whether he was a "resident" or a "transient". It was to be hoped that out of the experience of the big depression there would come an acceptance by the nation as a whole of what is obviously a national responsibility.

Since unemployment relief must necessarily be administered on the local level there does seem to be some reason for local governments bearing a portion of the cost. If a municipality administered relief with money entirely supplied by the federal government the senior government would have no assurance that the administration would be as careful as it would be if the local body were paying some part of the cost.

But the important fact is that unemployment is not a local but a national obligation and as such the major responsibility must be that of the national government.

Alberta Hotel Assn. 1955 Scholarships

Three major Jubilee scholarships tenable at the University of Alberta and four at the Banff School of Fine Arts will be awarded this year by the Alberta Hotel Association in addition to the annual scholarships offered by the organization.

Each of the university Jubilee scholarships will be for $1,000 to cover a three-year period of study, one to be competed for by students resident in Edmonton or Calgary, one by students in the Northern Zone of the province and one by students in the Central and Southern Zones. The scholarships will be administered by the University of Alberta.

To further commemorate the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Province, the Scholarship Selection Committee granted an additional $1,000 to the Banff School of Fine Arts, bringing the total to $3,000 this year. The Jubilee awards will go to outstanding students in the fields of music, drama, painting and languages.

All of the scholarships offered by the Alberta Hotel Association are competed for by students resident in Alberta only. Applications are now being received by Donald Cameron, director of the Banff School, for the 1955 session from July 4 to August 13 inclusive and winners will be announced shortly.

Policy of the Scholarship Selection Committee will follow the same pattern as in previous years. Fifty-three Alberta students graduating from Grade Twelve will receive awards designed to pay their way during the first year of University and a special fund of $5,000 has been set up to assist students in lower grades to continue their education. The whole scheme will cost the hotelmen between $35,000 and $40,000 this year.

Five annual scholarships are awarded in Edmonton, five in Calgary, three in the Peace River area, 20 in the northern zone, 10 in the central zone and 10 in the southern zone. Selections of the committee are based on academic qualifications and financial need of applicants who have reached matriculation standing.

Rural students attending the University of Alberta in Edmonton, or the branch of the university in Calgary, will each receive awards valued at $500, while students residing either in Edmonton or Calgary and attending the university in either of these centres will each receive awards of $250. Calgary students who cannot obtain their chosen course in Calgary and are obliged to attend the university in Edmonton will be granted awards of $500.

Special consideration is given to applications received from lower grade students in Public and Separate schools where it is indicated that financial assistance is necessary if they are to continue with their schooling. Grants in cases such as this will be made from the special fund and are reviewed by the committee each year.

Fifty-four Alberta students received scholarships tenable at the University of Alberta last year, eighteen awards were made at the Banff School of Fine Arts, and assistance valued at almost $2,000 was granted from the special fund.

Members of the association's Scholarship Selection Committee are Chief Justice C. C. McLaughlin, of Calgary; Rt. Rev. George Calvert, Bishop of Calgary; Rev. P. O'Byrne, of Claresholm; Dean R. M. Hardy, University of Alberta; Mrs. D. A. Hansen, vice-president of the Council of Home and School Associations; D. R. Cameron, registrar, Department of Education; B. J. Knowles, Port Saskatchewan, past president, Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association; A. G. Swinerton, President of the Alberta Hotel Association, and Fred Thomson, Calgary, Executive-Secretary.

Launched in 1952, the Alberta Hotel Association scholarship program has assisted 176 young Albertans in their scholastic careers. More than 400 applications were received and studied by the committee last year before the final awards were made. Application forms and descriptive folders are now being mailed to Grade XII students registered to write matriculation examinations this year.

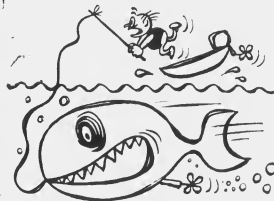

There are now over 20,000 private pension and profit-sharing plans covering more than 10,000,000 workers and requiring more than $3,000,000,000 worth of contributions a year. If all American employees were to receive pension protection, the money needed for the fund would be greater than the total market.

THINKING ABOUT PROFITS?

The people who conduct public opinion polls

asked a large number of Canadians this question:

"How big a profit do you think the average Canadian company makes?" Most people thought it was nearly 28% on the income dollar.

Then these people were asked what profit they thought a company ought to make. Most of them thought it was about half as big as that, or around 16%.

Actually, Imperial's profit last year was less than one-third of what people thought we made, or a little more than 8%.

Of this, just over 4% was distributed to Imperial's shareholders.

The rest went back into the business to help replace worn-out equipment and meet future needs

Modern advertising is a necessity to hold and build business. Be proud of your business, of the goods you have to sell, of the services you have to hide your light under a bushel - proclaim far and where your place of business is, for public memory is short, and advertising is a powerful aid to all types of businesses. Moreover, people as a general

Davidson's Jubilee oxen assist at wedding party

When anything of importance happens in Davidson now-a-days, the local Jubilee Committee are right in there with both feet — but this time it is with both oxen. When Ann Price and "Duke" Unshie chose April 18th in the Jubilee year for the big event, their plans for a quiet escape from their many friends were fouled. The local boys duplicated their car keys and removed the wedding car from in front of the church and replaced it with the Jubilee oxen, and transported the happy but very surprised newly weds through town. That chap under the top has is Frank Spratt, the official keeper of the Jubilee oxen.

JONAS E. SALK AND FAMILY: Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed the polio vaccine named in his honor, poses with wife, Donna, and their three sons. Among first to receive inoculations during the test run in 1954 the boys are, from left: Jonathan, 5, Peter, 11, and Darrel, 8.

"—AND HURRAY!" Mrs. Emilie Schuyler of the Dallas, Tex., Humane Society has a right to look distraught. The Society was presented with 250 rabbits by a local rabbit breeder unable to care for the bunnies, and her job is to find homes for the creatures before the Society is crowded out of its offices.

SURGERY PERFORMED 22 FEET UNDER WATER—Dr. H. G. Blasdel transplants the cornea from a donor Bat Ray fish (foreground) into the eye of Charlie, a blind pet Bat Ray at a California aquarium. The donor Bat Ray was caught at sea. Gift of its cornea cost it its life.

SITTING PRETTY: There's no wrinkle to this new wrinkle in travel apparel. It's a skirt with overlapping panel at the back which wearer can unbutton while seated. Inner panel gets the wrinkle treatment, leaving flannel skirt wrinkle-free at end of journey.

STAMP HONORS AVIATRIX—Portrait of Maryse Bastie, holder of many speed records and first woman to fly the Atlantic, adorns this new 50-franc stamp to be issued in Paris.

STRAIGHT UP — Navy's "Pogo Stick," Convair-built vertical takeoff plane, hovers over Lindbergh Municipal Airport near San Diego, Calif., while its pilot tests a new instrument which records rate of decent, helps him to make bounceless landings.

A LOT OF BULL

A bull sea elephant, by far the largest of the seals, may grow to a length of 20 feet and weigh as much as three tons. Its thick layer of blubber beneath the skin yields a valuable oil.

HER MARRIAGE BEING ARRANGED—The marital future of 14 year old Princess Shanz Pahlavi, who is a student at a boarding school in Liege, Belgium, is being arranged by her father the Shah of Iran. The prospective groom is 19 year old King Faisal of Iraq. The Princess is the daughter of the Shah by his first marriage to Princess Fawzia, sister of ex-king Farouk of Egypt. The engagement has not yet been announced officially and the marriage will probably not take place until the Princess is 16.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Off trail moment

—By LILA LENNON

LYNN turned to Randy Hughes and sighed. "These Arizona sunsets are beautiful, aren't they?"

Randy nodded. "I hope to see a lot of them . . . and of you," he added.

Lynn laughed. "That will be simple enough . . . while you're on the ranch we'll bump into each other often, breakfast, luncheon and dinner."

"How long are you staying?" Randy asked.

"I'm an old dude hand," she replied. "I've been here two weeks, and another two weeks to go."

Randy grinned. "Just getting here this afternoon makes me a brand new dude, doesn't it?"

Lynn turned and looked at him out of the corner of her eye. She liked what she saw . . . very much. Suddenly, the vision of she and Randy riding on horses over the ractus-studded trails . . . the wonderful sunsets . . . it could be perfect!

"Do you ride?" she asked.

Randy nodded. "I . . . used to," he said slowly, "but . . ."

"Think nothing of it!" Lynn interrupted. "You'll soon get used to it. When I first came, I hadn't been on a horse for six years, but it's swell now." She added earnestly. "You never really forget how to ride, you know. And the trails around here are wonderful!"

Randy looked out over the sandy rolling hills. "I'm sure they are."

"You didn't ride up here, did you?" Lynn asked.

"No," Randy replied. "I came up with the others, in the station wagon . . ."

"The view from the top of the mountain road is something you'll never forget," Lynn said dreamily. "If I saw it with you, I'm sure of that," Randy replied.

Victoria Day safe driving being urged

The issuing of a proclamation urging all motorists to give particular care to safe driving over the Victoria Day weekend of May 21, 22 and 23 is announced.

The amount of traffic on highways is increasing steadily from year to year and will be greater than usual during the forthcoming Victoria Day weekend, which is traditionally the first major holiday in which thousands of families take to the highways to visit their summer cottages and other resort areas.

Such heavy traffic often results in accidents which cause property damage, personal injury, loss of life and a waste of resources. Seventy-four persons met death as a result of traffic accidents in Saskatchewan during 1954.

A large number of traffic accidents occur because of error and lack of judgment, skill or attention, and could be minimized or eliminated by courteous and good driving attitudes, using safe vehicles and exercising caution.

Traffic accidents represent a major problem and it is deemed advisable to interest individuals and agencies in observing and promoting safety on our roads and streets at all times.

Along with continuing to drive safely, drivers could best celebrate Victoria Day by seeing to it that over this holiday weekend, they are not responsible for any deaths or injuries due to motor vehicle accidents.

BATS HIGH WITH P.O.—Baseball's legendary Cy Young is still in there, playing—and the U.S. Post Office is catching for him. Congress has voted to keep open the tiny branch office in his home town of Peoli, Ohio (pop. 30), just to handle the volume of mail Cy still receives.

An unusual typewriter produced by a Leicester firm is being used at the U.K. atomic energy research centre at Harwell for typing mathematical formulae. It has two keyboards and 180 characters. Most of the manufactured tobacco imported by the U.K. in January and February came from Commonwealth countries. They sent 206 million pounds which was about two-thirds of the total £229 million pounds.

A former astronomer at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria, B.C., is to direct a British expedition to observe the eclipse of the sun in Ceylon on June 20. He is Professor Oliver Rehnman, MA, Ph.D., FRIS, now professor of astrophysics and director of observatories at Cambridge University.

Cordless exchange

Britain's first cordless telephone switchboard has now been brought into use at the Thonet Exchange at Margate. Operators press buttons and keys instead of "plugging in." During busy periods the calls are automatically "queued" and the Post Office hope that will prevent callers having to wait a long time for a reply.

It all adds up to terrific birthday party for Jubilee

REGINA—Members of the community activities committee for Saskatchewan's Golden Jubilee met here recently to hear reports regarding Jubilee activities in all parts of the province. They heard details of how cities, towns, villages and rural districts are preparing local celebrations in honor of Saskatchewan's fiftieth birthday.

After the meeting all members agreed that very few places in the province will be without some form of Jubilee observance this summer. Over 200 local Jubilee committees already are organized with active chairmen and secretaries, and many more are organizing this month. It is almost certain that there will be at least 200 local celebrations, with parades, bands, sports, picnics and ceremonies in honor of district pioneers.

Terrific birthday party

"It is going to be a terrific birthday party," stated R. L. Stett, chairman of the community activities committee, after the meeting.

In a survey of the whole Jubilee program Fred McGinness, executive director of the Saskatchewan Golden Jubilee committee, said the visit to Saskatoon, Regina and Moose Jaw from May 13 to May 16 will focus the attention of all Canadians on Saskatchewan's celebrations. The four daily newspapers and 99 weeklies are issuing special Jubilee editions at that time for distribution all over the country. The book on Saskatchewan written by Jim Wright will be on newstands this month. A film on Saskatchewan will have its premiere about the middle of June. A condensed version will appear on the Canada Carries On series in theatres all across Canada.

A progress report by E. W. McKenzie, director of community activities, regarding community Jubilee programs this summer was emphasized by a map dotted with colored pins to indicate the places that have their celebration plans well in hand and are just waiting until seeding is over to begin festivities. The map is dotted with pins from top to bottom and from corner to corner. According to Mr. McKenzie it will be the largest province-wide public celebration ever attempted.

Work crews started out early in May to complete the installation of 58 Jubilee markers for historic sites in the province. J. D. Herbert, Jubilee director for historic sites, announced. Eighteen of these will have full-size Red River carts and an inscription board. 35 will be in the form of large rustic markers and five will be bronze tablets. At least 20 public ceremonies are planned for these historic sites. In addition to the Jubilee markers there will be 15 or more historic spots perpetuated by some form of marker erected by private individuals or groups.

Pictorial map

A pictorial map showing the historic sites is being issued, said Mr. Herbert, together with a highway map showing the location in relation to main roads. A booklet on historic sites also is being prepared.

As many as 150,000 voices may join in Jubilee songs in schools all over the province on Thursday, May 26, said Neil Harris, Jubilee director for musical productions, in his report to the committee. This is part of the program to "have the whole province singing during Jubilee Year."

The Jubilee Choir is singing at all "A" and "B" fairs and is appearing before a many people as possible. The mighty musical, "Saskatchewan '05," also is entertaining varied audiences in all parts of the province.

The pageant

"The Fifth Year," made up of an historic narrative and Jubilee singing, is being presented in at least 80 communities, with more requests for the script and songs being received each week.

Special reports on Jubilee programs in their districts were given by Carl Goranson, Weyburn, Norman Roebuck, Yorkton; R. W. Harris, Gull Lake; Mrs. Anne Cusick, Coderre; Mrs. H. Entwistle, Parkman; Miss Emma Stewart and Mrs. Helene Ducie, Saskatoon; Bert McKay, Moosomin.
